About the Day

This Matthew study day will take a wide-angle lens approach by presenting some background information which informs the reading of individual passages.

We will devote particular attention to the evangelist's carefully worked-out over-all structure, to the Sermon on the Mount (perhaps Matthew's "greatest hit"), and to contemporary interpretation of the evangelist's primary concerns.

Each session will provide informational hand-outs and include time for questions.

Participants are requested to bring a Bible and materials for note taking.
